

Ash Die back is increasing in the Cotswolds. There is currently no cure. (August 2020). Ash trees provide habitat and food for 111 insect and mite species. 29 of these are specific to Ash trees. Bats use them for foraging and hibernation. To help remember Ash trees if you have photographs of any significant Ash trees in the landscape can you say where they are and send photographs to ashtreephotos@cotswoldsaonb.org.uk .